

The Saskatchewan Duplex Postmarks, Part 1

by Lawrence A. Walker & Jean-Guy Dalpé

In the list which follows, the provincial designation has not been given; it is understood to be SASK in all cases. Readers are reminded that the figures in parentheses in the column "horizontal diameter" come from the collections of the authors, and not from the proof impression books. The authors again wish to acknowledge the strong input from their friend James Felton of Little Rock, Arkansas.

the number "1379" in manuscript, as well as the final receiving mark, "Howard Beach, N.Y. / Registered". However, it is strange that there was no transit registration mark at Fort McMurray or at Edmonton!

Note 3: The second trip to Herschel Island took place in winter, with arrival on January 20, 1931. Thus, it is almost certain that at least the Aklavik-Herschel Island-Aklavik legs were carried out by dog team. The final leg of the trip, Fort McMurray to New York, took only five days, and thus must have been made by air.

Note 4: The writer has seen another cover, almost identical to this one, with the same dates at Herschel Island. Another cover, with a receiving mark of September 2, 1930 at Herschel Island, has an arrival mark of December 29, 1930 at Aklavik, and thus was not on the same mail run. The registration appears to have resulted in a faster service.

The Saskatchewan Duplex Postmarks, Part 2

by Lawrence A. Walker & Jean-Guy Dalpé

The second and last part of the Saskatchewan duplex postmark list is presented here. A note of caution seems to be in order. To identify correctly many of the Regina and Saskatoon duplexes, and perhaps a few others, the diameter and the date as given here is insufficient. It is presumed that different hammers which were very similar to one another were used during the same time period; other measurements are necessary in order to distinguish them.

The name of the province at the base of the datestamp is always SASK, except in the cases of the REGINA, SASK / DESPATCH and the HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY P.O. / REGINA SASK. hammers.

The authors would again like to thank Jim Felton for his valuable additional information.

Editor's note: the data listed under "FREECEVILLE" in Part 1 of this article, PHSC Journal #37, page 25, should be deleted. They are repeated in the present Part 2 of the article under PREECEVILLE.
